

Luke Andrews

First Friday April 3 5:30 pm to 9 pm.

After an eight year painting excursion in Italy, Luke Andrews has returned to his family home in Florida and is ready to show his recent local work. These large, colorful paintings are a collection of landscapes and cityscapes of Italy, as well as local "scapes" including Cocoa beach, Merritt Island, the Indian River, St. Augustine, Orlando and more.

Joining Andrews, whose work will shown on the patio, Highway Grrls' regulars, Robin Rothrock and Humberto Rebollo will be on hand as well. Robin will present her new work in the gallery, while Humberto will be streetside with the band.

"Today the painting concept of the artist [Luke Andrews] springs from the skill in creating emotions through the sight. He transforms with sophisticated sensibility into visual art his own photos which remind him of a place or of an everyday situation. The medium of acrylic helps the dimension and the depth, the colours infuse joy and serenity, the static moments are mixed with the dynamics and the characters speak together reflecting emotions and memories."

— Adriana Castoldi

Max Renner, another regular Highway Grrls gallery artist, is doing technical work in Southern France, being mindful of the artists who came before, soaking up the same atmosphere that inspired Van Gogh and Gauguin. He will hopefully return in a few months with all sorts of travel-inspired paintings.

There'll be visual treats and tasty treats abound...so folks should come out and "party with art" in the beautiful Eau Gallie Arts District along the scenic Indian River!
